Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Notice to Applicant

1. This communication is in response to the amendment filed 1 February 2006. Claims 2-29 have been cancelled. Claim 1 has been amended. Claim 1 remains pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(A) Claim 1 recites the limitation "the purchaser" in line 10.

There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over "Crisis, Grief and Healing" web pages, February 4, 1998, URL:

Art Unit: 3626

<<http://web.archive.org/web/19980204184657/www.webhealing.com/>>, hereinafter known as Crisis, in view of Belanger, U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2001/0020244, and "Angels Online Memorial Pages" web pages, February 6, 1998, URL:

<<http://web.archive.org/web/19980206233107/http://www.lastingmemories.com/>>, hereinafter known as Angels.

(A) Claim 1 has been amended to recite

- "associated with that memorial site that provides editing access to selected pages on that memorial site" in lines 5-6; and
- "providing for payment after the posting of the memorial page at a later time following a decision by the purchaser to continue maintaining the memorial site on the website" in lines 9-11.

As per newly amended claim 1, Crisis teaches a method of maintaining a memorial site on a web site, comprising:

(a) providing for the posting without charge of a memorial page on a web site, the memorial page corresponding to a deceased individual, the memorial page including a photograph of the deceased individual and identifying text (Crisis; see at least page 3, paragraphs 1-3).

Crisis fails to explicitly disclose the memorial site being capable of being edited from a remote workstation using a family member password associated with that memorial site that provides editing access to selected pages on that memorial site.

However, the above features are well-known in the art, as evidenced by Belanger.

Art Unit: 3626

In particular, Belanger teaches a method comprising the memorial site being capable of being edited from a remote workstation using a family member password associated with that memorial site that provides editing access to selected pages on that memorial site (Belanger; paragraph [0010]- [0011], paragraph [0024], paragraph [0028]).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Crisis to include these limitations, as taught by Belanger, with the motivations of allowing a user to “author, create, maintain, edit, copy, save and delete a Web site or a portion thereof” and to “manage their own Web sites” (Belanger; paragraph [0005], paragraph [0007]).

Crisis fails to explicitly disclose a method including

(b) providing for payment after the posting of the memorial page at a later time following a decision by the purchaser to continue maintaining the memorial site on the website.

However, the above features are well-known in the art, as evidenced by Angels.

In particular, Angels teaches a method including

(b) providing for payment after the posting of the memorial page at a later time following a decision by the purchaser to continue maintaining the memorial site on the website (Angels; page 4).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the method of Crisis to include these limitations, as taught by Angels, with the motivations of providing an appropriate method for preserving a service that that provides “pleasing memorial page[s] that can be accessed anytime day or night” and “provides a unique way of spanning the globe to bring friends and family together at one virtual site to honor their loved ones” (Angels; page 2).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 1 February 2006 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure. The cited but not applied references Truong, U.S. Patent Number 6, 151, 609 and Fenton, U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2002/0194151 and the article teach the environment of remotely creating and editing memorial web pages.
